

Ms. Kristine Turner

Deputy Director, Test and Evaluation

Naval Surface Warfare Center, Port Hueneme Division

Ms. Kristine Turner is the Deputy Director of Test and Evaluation (T&E) for the Naval Surface Warfare Center, Port Hueneme Division (NSWC PHD). She provides engineering leadership to ensure successful T&E for surface ship combat and weapon systems, while also spearheading the T&E Workforce Campaign to help reinvigorate the team in both capability and capacity.

Ms. Turner began her career at PHD in 2009 as a Systems Engineer for the MK 160 Gun Fire Control System In-Service Engineering Agent (ISEA) and various fire control systems for the Littoral Combat Ship (LCS). She has also worked as a Waterfront Manager, Project Engineer, and Project Officer for the LCS Program.

Ms. Turner earned her B.S. in Mechanical and Aeronautical Engineering from the University of California, Davis. She is an active mom to her 3 year old daughter and 2 year old son. On weekends, you'll see her enjoying family walks around the neighborhood, re-enacting Frozen scenes with her kids, and planning their next trip to Disneyland.
